Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

- I. Claims 33-46 and 53-63, drawn to an air management system for controlling heating and cooling stages, classified in Class 236, subclass 1E.
- II. Claims 47-52, drawn to a configuration device for configuring a plurality of thermostats, classified in Class 236, subclass 51.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, the invention in Group I as recited in claim 33 has separate utility such as in a system that does not have the configuring device for upload and download of configurations of thermostats of Group II and the invention in Group II as recited in claim 47 has separate utility such as in a system that does not have the air management system identification and the listing of zones for the air management system of Group I. See M.P.E.P. § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the search for each group is not required for the other groups restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed.
